

SIMON LEUNG

Actor

“My dedication to the craft lies in the preparation, as a script interpreter, mastering expression of movement in the moment of the character.

I was fortunate to study under a great teacher at “Peter Sardi’s School of Acting,” where I immersed myself in the art of acting for four transformative years. Under Peter’s guidance, I honed my technical skills but also developed a profound understanding of character development and storytelling.”

Following his training, Simon ventured abroad to further his acting education, enriching his perspective with international influences and diverse methodologies. This experience broadened his range and deepened his commitment to his craft.

Having recently returned to acting, Simon Leung brings a renewed energy and depth to his performances. His time away from the spotlight allowed him to refine his approach and explore new facets of his artistic expression, ensuring that each role he undertakes is imbued with authenticity and emotional resonance.

Simon’s dedication to his craft and his journey of growth are evident in his compelling portrayals on screen and stage. As he embarks on this next phase of his career, Simon Leung is poised to captivate audiences with his talent, versatility, and unwavering commitment to storytelling.

BIO

0407 005 051

sima002691@gmail.com

Education

“Peter Sardis School of Acting”
2001 to 2003, 2004, 2023/24

Acting Experience

Master Card Commercial 2001

Luxe Soap Commercial 2002

Last Man Standing TV series 2003

“Destin” Short, Lead
Short Film 2001

